Assemblywoman Valerie Vainieri Huttle and Fort Lee Mayor Mark Sokolich — perhaps one of New Jersey’s most well-known current mayors, given his town’s role in the George Washington Bridge saga — are joined by other mayors and county officials for a 10 a.m. news conference at Fort Lee’s Constitution Park to kick off a drive to ban smoking at public parks and beaches. Fort Lee recently did so; Vainieri Huttle has introduced a bill that would take it statewide.
